NORWICH INDIAN ASSOCIATION.
Papers and Reports on the Work Being Done.

An interesting meeting of the Norwich Indian association was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Samuel H. Howe of Williams avenue. Miss Tyler read a letter from the Indian girl whom the association is educating at Hampton, and one from the girl's teacher which spoke of the progress of her work and worth. Miss Huntington gave a report of the Indian's friend, Miss Estelle Reel, superintendent of Indian schools, which gave encouraging signs of progress in the education of the Indians. She leaves clearly the aims and scope of the day and boarding schools, and among the latter mentioned especially the Riverside, Ft. Hall, Chillicothe, Salem, and Colville schools, with an account of the special agricultural or industrial work which is being done. Extracts were read from Commissioner Leupp's report, giving an idea of his year's work among the Indian tribes and what had been accomplished, and Mrs. Lane spoke of the new Carleton magazine, the Indian Craftsman.

GETTING BLOCK ISLAND READY.
Taken to Noank to Be Put in Shape for Season.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Riley B. Witter.
Mrs. Rebecca C. Witter, who died at her home in Brooklyn, Conn., on the 21st inst., was the daughter of the Hon. Thomas G. and Grace Judson Clark, who died in Canterbury, May 25, 1855. She was the oldest of their six children, and was married to Riley B. Witter, Dec. 25, 1881. Since that time she had resided in Brooklyn, and had taken a very active part in Christian work. Very unselfish in her nature, she did not spare herself and spared others, even beyond her strength, in sickness and affliction, bringing to them comfort and good cheer. In her own family she was a most faithful helper, and her husband safely trusted in her for strong affection, friendly companionship, judicious counsel and the taste, order and happiness of his home. There and in the whole community she will be lovingly remembered and greatly missed.

Her husband, who leaves a daughter, Helen Louise Witter, a member of the graduating class of the Killbuck high school and a sister, Mrs. Walter Kingsley of Plainfield and Mrs. Andrew J. Hetrick of Canterbury, and two brothers, A. T. J. Clark of Canterbury, and John D. Clark of Springfield, Mass.

The funeral was largely attended Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Gering, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. J. Hetrick, and burial was in the Brooklyn cemetery.

William Curtis Gulliver.
William Curtis Gulliver, lawyer, died Monday at his home, No. 8 East Fifty-sixth street, New York. He was born in Norwich, Conn., on April 1, 1841, the son of John P. and Frances Curtis Gulliver, and received his early education at Phillips Andover academy.

While at Yale, in the class of 1870, he was a member of Psi U fraternity, and the senior society of Skull and Bones. He was also a class orator.

Mr. Gulliver entered the New York law school and the office of Alexander & Green. Afterward he became a member of the firm, and was identified with many famous cases that came to trial in New York, principally as a consulting lawyer, but also as a smaller degree as a trial lawyer.

Most of his time was spent in acting as an adviser to various large interests.

Probably the litigation which brought him most prominently before the public was that connected with the United States Shipbuilding company. With his law partner, Col. John J. McCook, he was a leading adviser in the organization of that trust and in the proceedings anterior to its crash.

Mr. Gulliver was secretary of the Riding club and prominent in the Coaching club. Four-in-hand driving was one of his special hobbies. In town and at his country house at Southampton, L. I. He was also a member of the Union City, University City, Yale, Graduate and Garden City Golf clubs and the Mayflower Descendants.

James McMoran.
The death of James McMoran occurred on Monday at the Norwich state hospital, in his 67th year. He had been there for some time, suffering from a nervous breakdown. Mr. McMoran was a machinist by trade, and lived in New London, where he is survived by his wife. He was well known there and was a member of Brainard lodge, A. F. and A. M. His last employment was at the Brown Cotton Gin.

FUNERALS.
Francis McKee.

At 2.30 o'clock Monday afternoon the funeral of Francis McKee was held from his late home, No. 55 Sherman street, at which there were many present. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. S. H. Howe, pastor of the Methodist church. There were many handsome floral arrangements. The bearers were Malcolm McKee, Francis McKee, George Plimley, Sr., George Plimley, Jr., Robert and Elias Campbell. Burial was in Yantic cemetery, where a committal service was read. Henry Allen & Son had charge of the arrangements.

NORWICH BULLETIN, TUESDAY, MAY 25, 1909.

SPECIAL RATES FOR ANNIVERSARY.

Transportation Committee Confers with Representative of New Haven Road—Thinks Favorable of Committee's Ideas—Invitations Sent Out—Contributions Coming in Good.

On Monday afternoon the transportation committee of the anniversary celebration held a meeting at the Brookings Memorial at which much business of an encouraging nature was carried out. Mr. Cooley of New Haven, representing Traffic Manager A. C. Smith, attended the meeting.

The committee stated that it desired to secure special rates to Norwich for both days of the celebration from New Haven, Hartford, Providence, Worcester and Springfield, besides intermediate points, thinking that the rate of a fare and a half for the round trip would be about right. They also want to get a train north on the New Haven road late in the evening, after the fireworks.

The representatives of the road considered these ideas very favorably and promised to report them to headquarters and would forward an answer as soon as possible. It is expected that many thousands of people will be attracted here for the celebration and the committee believes that many more will come from the north and west.

From the statements of the New Haven representative they feel confident that their requests will be met.

Sub-Committee on Ways and Means.
On Monday afternoon there was a meeting of the sub-committee on ways and means at the Central fire station, at which it was reported that the subscriptions are coming in nicely and all work is being done in a special anniversary fund since the last list was published. The sub-committee has gained the most of these subscriptions and is well satisfied with the results. The total is said now to be over $10,000.

Invitations to Distinguished Guests.
Invitations to the distinguished guests, including President Taft, cabinet, and national officers, men of prominence in the literary world, college presidents, state officers and others, including George T. Bromley, was commenced on Monday.

The committee is working hard to get a number of the distinguished guests to the celebration and hopes to be successful. It is expected that John Tyson, with his famous locket, will be one of the guests. An effort will also be made to get the Locomotive which won the Vanderbilt cup.

All Carpenters in Eastern Conference.
The Carpenters' union received four new members Monday evening at its regular meeting in the Carpenters' hall, at which President Patrick Barry was in the chair. There was a good attendance.

A parade in the coming 25th anniversary in July was passed and it was also voted to invite all the Carpenters' unions in the eastern conference, which are the unions in New London, Willimantic, Danielson and Putnam. As the local union has 230 members, this will mean a very large representation of carpenters in the division of the parade assigned to organized labor.

Auto Committee.
The auto committee is working hard to get a number of the distinguished guests to the celebration and hopes to be successful. It is expected that John Tyson, with his famous locket, will be one of the guests. An effort will also be made to get the Locomotive which won the Vanderbilt cup.

WORKED THIRD DEGREE.
Uncas Lodge Team Does Excellent Work.

Uncas lodge, No. 11, I. O. O. F., met in Odd Fellows' hall in the Olympic building Monday evening, with work in the third degree to engage its attention. N. G. Frank L. Tuttle conducted the business meeting, and delivered a most interesting address on the subject of the third degree. It was a double session in that the lodge, as the team first worked one of its own candidates and then one for Shetucket lodge, No. 27, as the latter has no meeting tonight because of holding ladies' night. Claim choirs, sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee were served by the entertainment committee at the conclusion of the evening.

Born in Lebanon.
George R. Bill of Admiral Foote post, New Haven, will be 44 years old Tuesday. He was born in Lebanon May 25, 1825, and served in the Eighteenth Connecticut. After his membership in that regiment he held a captaincy in the thirty-ninth U. S. C. I. He was captured at Winchester, Va. June 15, 1862, and was paroled July 5. Captain Bill was the oldest veteran who marched in the Grand Army column at Hartford Bridge day.
